

Cloud Scavenger Hunt

The clouds can tell us a lot about the weather! Observing them can help us predict when rain is coming!

Cirrus clouds can be spotted on a sunny day and are white and wispy. Can you find a cirrus cloud and draw it?

Cumulus clouds are often seen drifting across the sky on sunny days. They are fluffy and look like cotton balls, often with flat bottoms. Draw a cumulus cloud that you find!

Cloud Scavenger Hunt

Stratus clouds tend to cover the sky with a solid white blanket. Think about a cloudy day and predict what might follow the arrival of stratus clouds?

Dark clouds are an indicator that the cloud is carrying water vapor that will soon turn to rain. Large dark clouds that reach high into the sky are called cumulonimbus clouds. Can you find and draw one?

